About the Boys & Girls Clubs of Las Vegas Fine Art Program

The Boys & Girls Clubs of Las Vegas Fine Art Program enables our youth to develop their creativity and cultural awareness through knowledge and appreciation of the visual arts, crafts, performing arts and creative writing. Boys & Girls Clubs year-round fine arts program encourages artistic expression through classes, special events and fine art exhibitions. In an era of public education budgetary challenges, the priority for Arts education and appreciation continues to diminish. There is little doubt that young people exposed to the Arts exhibit a higher degree of creative expression and appreciation for the subject matter. In addition, encouraging children to express themselves through the Arts has proven to have psychological and therapeutic benefits as well. Your support will enable us to develop our arts program and reach and impact more of the 21,000 young people we currently serve. For Boys & Girls Clubs of Las Vegas Fine Art Program sponsorship and volunteer information, please contact Heather Estus at (702) 367-2582, ext 223.

About Jennifer Main

Jennifer Main has become one of the most prominent artists of Las Vegas. She began selling her work in galleries at the young age of 17 and has continued as a full-time artist with much success and recognition for the past 10 years showing her work in galleries nationally and has a growing respectable list of collectors worldwide. Main graduated from the Las Vegas Academy of International Studies, Performing, and Visual Arts as well as attended the prestigious School of the Art Institute of Chicago. Main’s work was recently featured on MTV’s Real World San Diego, Discovery Channel’s American Casino and the red carpet Las Vegas premieres for Warner Brother’s movie “Racing Stripes” and New Line Cinema’s “How to Eat Fried Worms” at Brenden Theatres in the famous Palms Casino Resort. Her work is also featured on CineMax’s “Sin City Diaries” starring Supermodel and actress Amber Smith. She has painted the likeness of Jim Clark, venture entrepreneur and founder of Netscape, Alvy Ray Smith, co-founder of Pixar Animation, legendary Siefried and Roy, and the great Jazz entertainers Al Jarreau, Clint Holmes, and Dave Koz. Main was also selected to be the featured artist for the award-winning Wildflower Arts and Music Festival in Texas and the Jazz and Art Festival at Mt. Charleston Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada. Jennifer’s unique style is instantly recognizable for her fearless use of vibrant color and the raw energy that her paintings exude. Her favorite subjects to paint are people especially the face and using the eyes to tell a story as well as a reflection of the soul and spirit. Jennifer says “I am influenced by all artists in some way but get my inspiration from everyday life experiences and what I may be feeling at the moment. I try to remain transparent in my work” and that is what her collectors are so drawn to; they can truly related to her paintings. Jennifer Main also stays very active with donating artwork and volunteering for her favorite charities. She believes strongly in giving back to her community and has been visiting the Boys & Girls Clubs in Las Vegas giving art classes and speaking to the kids about the importance of art. Jennifer says “I just love to think that there is a possibility of sparking a passion for art in a child. I still remember every one of my art teachers to this day and each one of them taught me things I will always remember. I don’t know where I would be without art and that is why I am so excited to be able to be a part of creating this calendar to help support the Boys & Girls Clubs of Las Vegas Arts program.” www.jennifermaingallery.com.
